AMERICAN SECURITY AND TRUST COMPANY LAYS CORNER STONE.

New Building at Pennsylvania Avenue and Fifteenth Street-Order of Exercises.

A simple but appropriate program was carried out this afternoon, when the corner stone was laid of the granite structure which is being erected at the northwest corner of Pennsylvania avenue and 15th street by the American Security and Trust Company. This time next year it is expected the building will be completed and the company will be occupying its new

In order to have a record made of the date of the erection of a building which will represent, when the cost of the ground is included, an expenditure of about $600,-000, it was decided to place in the granite block at the corner a copper box containing the records that are usually preserved in this manner.

There is no definite record, at least none has thus far been found, of the date of the erection of the old structure, which was removed in order to make a place for this fine modern building. As the home of the branch in this city of what is known as tory of the city. It was erected probably shortly prior to the year 1825 and had, therefore, been standing nearly eighty years when taken down.

In the opinion of Col. H. F. Blount, the vice president of the company and the active president in the absence from the city. ing president in the company and the activing president in the absence from the city of President Bell, the beginnings of the successor of the old building ought to be preserved in some form, and so a simple program for a corner stone laying was de-vised.

The Ceremonies.

At the close of the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the company this afternoon the members proceeded to the site of the new structure. Col. Blount presided, and a copper box containing the following articles was placed in the corner stone: List of stockholders, with shares of each; officers of the company, 1904, in autograph; directors of the com-pany, 1904; charter, acts of incorporation and by-laws, annual reports from organization to date, contracts relating to purchase of land and erection of building, copy of latest Financial Review, copies of local papers, city drectory for 1904. A few words were spoken by Col. Blount, and the cereonies came to an end.

Col. Blount spoke as follows: Col. Blount spoke as follows:

"Gentlemen, Directors: I have invited you to be present at the laying of the corner stone of our new home—that is to be. It is through your wise and conservative management that this increase of working room has been called for and if we and our presence of the stone of th successors are as vigilant in the future as you have been in the past this corner stone will long represent the rock foundation on which our institution is built."

Directors Present.

The directors present were: W. E. Ailes, Henry F. Blount, Crosby S. Noyes, F. F. Burdett, W. Riley Deeble, Robert Dornan of Philadelphia, James E. Fitch, W. J. Flather, Daniel Fraser, John E. Herrell, Henry Hurst, John A. Kasson, Clarence F. Norment, Ward Thoron and H. A. Willard.

AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN. General and Personal News From the West End

The body of an unidentified infant was found late Saturday afternoon floating in the Potomac river near the foot of 30th street, Georgetown, by Mr. Joseph Johnson, who lives at 926 27th street northwest. When the body was discovered it was placed upon a sand scow nearby and the police authorities notified. Apparently the infant was but a few weeks old, and gave evidence of having been dead several days. The morgue master was at once notified and the body was taken to the morgue to await identification. The identity of the child's parents is shrouded in mystery. An investigation, however, is being made to ascertain their whereabouts.

The Sunday school of the Holy Trinity Catholic Church, it is announced, will reopen next Sunday under the charge of Rev. Samuel Cahill, S. J., assistant pastor of Trinity parish. During the summer recess the children's mass has been regularly celebrated taking the place of the weekly seem brated, taking the place of the weekly ses-sions. The Sunday school services are to be held in the chapel as heretofore.

TO ACCOMMODATE POLICE COURT. Commissioners Seek Temporary Quarters Pending New Structure. In anticipation of securing an appropriation at the next session of Congress for the erection of a new Police Court building on the site of the present court the Commissioners have been endeavoring to find a building suitable for holding sessions of the Police Court during the construction of the proposed new structure. Building Inspector Ashford has inspected a number of buildings which might be used as temporary quarters for the court, and has just reported to Commissioner Biddle that a building located on 5th street between E and F streets northwest may be suitable if exten-sive repairs are made to the building.

"The building is in very bad condition and in need of extensive repairs. All the plumb-ing and gas fixtures have been torn out by intruders, and modern plumbing and gas fixtures will have to be installed throughout. A few slight alterations in the partition walls and partitions will probably accommodate the court."

Commissioner Biddle today wrote to the agents of the property, asking that they call on him in person and consult about what monthly rental would be asked for the occupancy of the building during the eighteen months or two years that will be required for the construction of the new building. It is pointed out that Congress will have to authorize the rental of the property, and also appropriate a sum sufficient to pay the rent. It is estimated that temporary quarters for the Police Court will be required for the period of about two years.

CAN'T TAKE A VACATION.

No One Authorized to Act for Purchasing Agent Cochran.

William E. Cochran, purchasing agent of the Post Office Department, wants to take his vacation and incidentally kill a few Colorado bears, after which exercise he says he is going to vote for President Roosevelt. But, and this is a very significant word in this connection, he cannot go until the President designates some one to exercise the functions of his office during his absence upon these laudable errands. Congress is responsible, too, and the legislative body will be asked to do something that will simplify matters in this connection when it convenes here in December

When the office of purchasing agent for the Post Office Department was created by act of Congress the solons neglected to provide a chief clerk for the agent. The office is a presidential appointment and the genial chief of post office inspectors was selected by the President to fill the chair. For the beginning of his world have thered.

John Robinson, plaintiff, agt. R. Miller, alias Wm. Miller, defendant; debt, $4.50; For the beginning of his work he gathered about him what he could of a force, the Pestmaster General lending him clerks from different divisions, but no chief clerk was appointed, and, none having been provided for by Congress, it was not within the pre-rogatives of the President to appoint one.

Mr. Cochran was therefore alone in his Mr. Cochran was therefore alone in his washington Highlands Charles C. Mr. Cochran was therefore alone in his

Mr. Cochran was therefore alone in his glory as purchasing agent, and made his minor appointments as he saw fit.

But he had not the right to appoint a chief clerk who would have the power to do his work during his absence, signing papers and performing the other duties of the office. That power must be given by act of Congress, this being the case with all offices where the appositive power is all offices where the appointive power is in the hands of the President.

in the hands of the President.

So now the purchasing agent wants to go away and cannot. He cannot leave because there would be no one to act in his stead during his absence, and he will have to await the return of the President before the matter can be taken up. President Roosevelt can appoint some one to act for him, designating any person he may see fit, but he cannot appoint a permanent chief clerk, for no provision was made for such an official. There is no doubt that he will select some one as soon, as he returns to select some one as soon as he returns to Washington, but in the meantime Mr. Cochran is eager to get at these bears with his "trusty rifle" and afterward knock a few holes in the ambitions of Colorado

MISSING FROM HOME. Philip Martin, Aged 21, and George Phornx, a Veteran Soldier. Philip Martin, twenty-one years old, is missing from his home, No. 209 Fillmore street, Anacostia, and his parents have been unable to obtain any information as to his whereabouts. His father has communicated with the police and has visited the barracks, arsenal and navy yard in an endeavor to ascertain whether his son applied for enlistment. His inquiries were without success.

Mrs. Margaret Halm, who lives at No. 19
Harrison street, Anacostia, last evening reported to the police of the Anacostia precinct that George Phornx, a veteran, fifty-eight years old, who was boarding at her premises, had been missing from the house

IN BUSINESS SESSION.

New York State Club Meets and Elects Officers.

A meeting of the New York State Club was held Saturday at its headquarters, 514 9th street northwest, at 4 p.m. It was decided to open a bureau of information for the state voters, where they can be instructed as to the dates and railroad rates, the arrangement being under the direction of the executive committee. The committee the Thirteenth Series. on transportation reported one first-class limited fare for the round trip to all points in the state with the following time limits: New York city and Brooklyn-Registration, October 13, 14, 15, 20, 21 and 22, limit-and 8, limited to November 14. New York state-Registration, October 13, 14, 15, 20, 21, 22, limited to thirty days from and including date of sale. Election, November 5, 6, 7 and 8, limited to November 14. Addresses were made by John A. Merritt of Lockport, N. Y., and Philip Steele of Albany. A resolution was unanimously passed indorsing the state ticket.

ed to five days; election, November 5, 6, 7

Wm. C. Connor was re-elected president for the sixth term. He made the opening address, and pald a glowing tribute to President Roosevelt. In the course of his remarks he said the opposition orators say the President is an unsafe man. I say give us some more unsafe men like Theodore Roosevelt. A man who cannot vote for him is not interested in the success of his country or its people. A more courageous, a more honest President never sat in the chair. The election of Theodore Roosevelt means no disturbance in business interests, but a centinuation of prosperity, the con struction of the Panama canal and the upbuilding of our commerce abroad.

With such generals as the republican organization has at its command and a united party behind them, I see no chance of the opposition winning. We are ready, they are not prepared; we lead, they follow; we build up, they destroy; we unite, they di-vide; we are strong, they are feeble; we win, they lose.

There are 1,533 bona fide voters in Wash-

The newly-elected officers are: President, Wm. C. Connor, New York city; vice president, John D. Stanton, Brooklyn; recording secretary, F. B. Squiyer, Auburn; financial secretary, John C. Babcock, Albany; treasurer, William F. Kennedy, Brooklyn.

Executive committee—John A. Merritt, Lockport, N. Y.; Wm. Miller Collier, Auburn; John Bullough, Brooklyn; Middleton Smith, New York etty: John Babcock, Al-Smith, New York city; John Babcock, Albany; G. F. McMorris, Brooklyn; A. H.
